Intimate Space used movement in its most subtle and nuanced form to connect universally with charm and whimsy.

_Dance Australia_
Once again I must acknowledge the incredible artistic excellence achieved by the company under the careful guidance of Artistic Director Michelle Ryan and Artistic Manager Roz Hervey.

2018 also saw more focus on marketing Restless’ work more widely, setting the foundations for touring the company’s work in the near future.

Restless could not be doing the things it has without the support of its donors, the Australia Council, whose four year funding has made the realisation of the company’s vision possible, as well as Carclew and Arts South Australia for their sustained commitment to the company over many years. After a recent change in Carclew’s funding arrangements, the company also wishes to thank the Department of Education and Child Development for its continuing support.

Special thanks is due also to the James and Diana Ramsay Foundation for their generous support, not only financially but for their ongoing belief in Restless. This support was evident at the Adelaide Festival showing of Zizanie at which many of the Foundation’s Directors, and Executive Director Kerry de Lorme, were present.

In closing I wish to thank all of the excellent Restless staff who make all this possible, in particular Company Manager Nick Hughes, Michelle Ryan and Roz Hervey. I wish to say a special thank you to Maggie Armstrong (“Babs”), Financial Administrator, for her incredible contribution over a decade or more, and Belinda Hellyer, Development Manager, who created a funding stream where there previously was none. Thank you both for your contributions to the company, both professionally and personally.

I also want to acknowledge the very valuable work done by my fellow Board members, our tutors and other staff during 2018 who are too numerous to name but without whom Restless could not function, let alone achieve the incredible things it does.

Finally, and most importantly, I want to thank the dancers, without whom there is no company, for their passion, their hard work, their creativity and their commitment during the year, as well as their parents and friends, our audience, and all of our other supporters and patrons.

2019 looks to be another exciting year and once again I wish the company every success.

Nick Linke
Chair
2018 was a year of excellence for Restless, extremely busy but productive with huge growth artistically. We achieved all we set out to do and more!

The beginning of the year saw the presentation of Intimate Space at the Australian Performing Arts Market (APAM) in Brisbane and at the prestigious Bleach* in Festival 2018 as part of the Commonwealth Games Arts and Culture Program. The 27 performances sold out prior to the season’s opening. APAM provided fantastic exposure for the company to national and international presenters and Festival 2018 enabled Restless dancers to work with local artists from Gold Coast Recreation and Sport (GCRS) and Indelability Arts, all whom were fantastic. This collaborative model for the production was a huge success and garnered another Helpmann Award nomination for Best New Work for the second
It is imperative that the Restless dancers receive the best training possible and I’d like to thank all of our wonderful tutors involved in our extensive workshop program Links, Central and the Youth and Senior Ensembles. We also worked closely with the South Australian School for Vision Impaired and it was a delight to work with the school’s art teacher Lily Gower. The performance by the students showcased the skills they have developed over the years, their creativity and the importance of art in our schools. We also continued with our annual workshop at St Ignatius College where the receptive students are always enthusiastic and engaging.

Our achievements are many but behind the success is the hard work by many at Restless. Thank you to Financial Manager and arts stalwart, Maggie Armstrong and Development Manager Belinda Hellyer who left the company after ten and three years respectively. Your impeccable work will be missed but also your personalities, stories and support. Thank you also to Company Manager Nick Hughes for his dedication to the company, Roz Hervey for her passion and the Board for their support. We will continue to work together to create great art.

The dancers have shone over the last year. Thank you for your dedication but also your curiosity.

2018 was an exciting time for the company and 2019 promises even more. I look forward to reflecting in another 12 months on what we have achieved.

Michelle Ryan
Artistic Director
I have no words! This was an incredible experience to be a part of. It brought all the emotions out. Thank you so much to each and every person in this and part of this performance.

Intimate Space / audience response
2018 saw a huge boost to the company’s earned income in three important areas: events and touring, donations and philanthropy. Total earned income rose over the year by nearly 40% over the 2017 figures.

Events and touring income led the way with an 80% increase because of Intimate Space on the Gold Coast, the Commonwealth Games Closing Ceremony and Creating the Spectacle.

Donations surged by nearly 30% as a result of the spectacularly successful Restless Goes Global donations campaign spearheaded by Development Manager Belinda Hellyer. Many thanks to James Darling AM and Lesley Forwood for their generous support.

Income from philanthropic sources surged by over 40% because the James and Diana Ramsay Foundation gave Restless generous support. This was in addition to the support we received from them and the Sidney Myer Fund.

There will be lasting legacies for the company from these outcomes. The touring has helped to cement our reputation as a successful touring company. Restless Goes Global helped to establish a viable pool of donors who are prepared to support our work and it has created a valuable touring fund to enable Restless to take up future touring opportunities as they arise. And we are keen for the relationship with the James and Diana Ramsay Foundation to extend beyond its initial two years.

The company made a modest surplus in 2018 of $10,973 which brings our reserves to $136,076. This represents 16.5% of turnover and sees the company in sound financial shape for the future.

Nick Hughes
Company Manager
...a beautifully crafted piece of theatre – tender, witty, challenging, and whimsical. Rightly, the short season was sold out.

Dance Australia
The Showcase for APAM was presented in the Sofitel Hotel where the majority of the APAM delegates were staying. The Showcase was a cut down, 35 minute version of the production which was crafted into a satisfying version of the longer work by Michelle Ryan.

The Showcase was presented eight times over 19th and 20th February to audiences of ten at a time and was completely booked out. The response was universally excellent with interest being shown by several delegates.

Restless took ten dancers to Brisbane who had been in the original 2017 production. In addition, the opportunity to present the Showcase allowed Restless to work with dancers from Gold Coast Sport and Recreation and to incorporate them into the work. This was valuable preparation for the inclusion of these local dancers in the presentation of Intimate Space in April as part of Festival 2018, the Commonwealth Games Arts and Cultural Program.

Intimate Space at APAM

The hit of the 2017 Adelaide Festival, Michelle Ryan’s Intimate Space was Showcased as part of the final Australian Performing Arts Market (APAM) in Brisbane in February 2018.
Restless was invited to present Intimate Space on the Gold Coast in April in the Bleach* Festival (Bleach* was part of Festival 2018, Commonwealth Games Arts and Cultural Program).

Intimate Space was presented in the Hilton Surfers Paradise Hotel with twenty performances being given over four days (4th – 7th April). The season was sold out. The key organising team of Michelle Ryan and Roz Hervey made several reconnaissance visits to the Gold Coast to find the right hotel. They were also able to trial the Collaborative Model of presenting the work where a core of Restless dancers is supplemented by local dancers with disability. Local dancers were sourced from IndelAbility Arts and from the Gold Coast Sport and Recreation dance program. All the dancers, local and Restless, performed brilliantly.

The audience responses and the reviews were universally positive. This iteration of Intimate Space on the Gold Coast garnered a Helpmann Nomination as Best Dance Production 2018. (The 2017 Adelaide production also received a Helpmann Nomination as Best Dance Production 2017).

Helpmann Nomination

The production of Intimate Space on the Gold Coast received a Helpmann Nomination as Best Dance Production 2018. (The 2017 Adelaide production also received a Helpmann Nomination as Best Dance Production 2017).

Ruby Award

Intimate Space on the Gold Coast was also nominated for the Made In Adelaide Ruby Award.

Wow that was a very unique, confronting experience.

... highly valued excursions for the students who blossomed in the special environment of the Studio.
Restless highly values the relationship that has developed with the staff and students at the SA School for Vision Impaired (SASVI) at Park Holme in Adelaide.

The company has worked closely with the school every year since 2014 with extended residencies at the school and many visits by the pupils to work at Restless.

The 2018 program again involved regular out of school visits to Restless. These are highly valued excursions for the students who blossomed in the special environment of the Studio. The workshops were also a valuable professional development for Lily Gower, the school’s art teacher.

A performance entitled Trash or Treasure was given by the students in the Restless Studio as the culmination of a skills development project. Workshops were conducted over Terms 3 and 4 both at Restless and the school with a performance for 40 audience members in November 2018. The performance included film, live and recorded music created by the students, audio description, lighting and dance.

works in development
Zizanie

Directed by Meryl Tankard, Zizanie is to premiere at the 2019 Adelaide Festival. This will be the culmination of a series of developments that began in 2016.

During 2018 there were two Developments for Zizanie:

- A month long Development in July which saw the creation of the major structure of the work
- A week of filming in October

These were full time paid developments for the dancers and creative artists but the team worked on the production throughout the year with the dancers having weekly rehearsals during Terms 3 and 4.

It was wonderful for the dancers to be working in our beautiful studio with such an internationally renowned director as Meryl Tankard and supported by talented teams of creative artists and artsworkers. The dancers responded brilliantly to this professional environment.

Antony Hamilton and Candoco Collaboration

Candoco Dance Company is a UK based dance company working with dancers with and without disability.

Candoco produces excellent and profound experiences for audiences and participants that excite, challenge and broaden perceptions of art and ability, and place people and collaboration at the heart of their work.

Restless began discussing a possible collaboration with Candoco during 2018. This will be a collaboration between the UK’s and Australia’s leading dance companies working with dancers with and without disability. Both companies agreed that the choreographer would be Melbourne based, internationally acclaimed Antony Hamilton. A three day workshop was held by Antony in August with the members of the Youth Ensemble. This was the first step in a long series of developments which will culminate in a work which will premiere in Coventry UK in 2021 as part of the Coventry UK City of Culture celebrations.

Antony Hamilton is now Artistic Director of Melbourne’s Chunky Move dance company and so the collaboration now involves all three companies.
Creating the Spectacle doesn't look at disability from the eyes of those who see a lack of something, but rather from those who know their art is an exciting vision and should, must, be shared.

... Restless Dance Theatre – who begin the performance in ebb and flow fashion, expressing fear, curiosity and, ultimately, admiration for the water – Creating the Spectacle doesn’t look at disability from the eyes of those who see a lack of something, but rather from those who know their art is an exciting vision and should, must, be shared.

Creating the Spectacle

Restless Dance was commissioned by the Adelaide Film Festival to develop a 10 minute dance sequence for Creating the Spectacle, a work featuring UK artist Sue Austin performing in her adapted underwater wheelchair. The work was performed over two nights at the North Adelaide Aquatic Centre. It was wonderful for the dancers to be working alongside an international artist in yet another Festival environment. The audience response was overwhelmingly positive and the dancers shone rising to the challenge of performing in a non-traditional environment.
2018 saw an upswing in Restless marketing activities as the company attended many events and established relationships with potential presenters and producers nationally and internationally. Restless staff presented or attended at the following events:

Australian Performing Arts Market

As well as presenting the Intimate Space Showcase, Michelle Ryan, Roz Hervey, Belinda Hellyer and Nick Hughes attended the event.

Commonwealth Games Closing Ceremony

Michelle Ryan was commissioned to choreograph the opening dance sequence for the start of the Closing Ceremony of the Brisbane Commonwealth Games.

Utilising a total of 20 dancers from Restless and the Gold Coast Recreation and Sport dance program, Michelle choreographed a five minute sequence that was presented across three stages in the Games Stadium. The dance accompanied the opening song “Let Love Rule” sung by Archie Roach and Amy Shark.

The work was seen by 30,000 people in the stadium as well as an estimated global television audience of one billion.

Government House Reception
The Governor of South Australia, His Excellency The Honourable Hieu Van Le and his wife Lan T. Phuong Le generously hosted a reception at Government House for Restless on March 21st. It was a wonderful opportunity to strengthen the company’s warm relationships with its friends and supporters.

Restless Goes Global
Development Manager Belinda Hellyer put together an original and attractive fundraising project called Restless Goes Global. Firstly, she approached established donors James Darling AM and Lesley Forwood and asked them to commit to a substantial donation, which they readily agreed to do. Next she proposed a matching donation drive to equal and thereby double the total of donations. And finally she wrote a successful application to Creative Partnerships Australia to match the total and double it again.

With all these steps in place Restless was able to run the Restless Goes Global donations drive in which donations were doubled and doubled again: “Donate one dollar and it turns into four dollars!”

The Restless Goes Global drive raised a total of over $100,000 for the company with half going to support the Zizanie production in the 2019 Adelaide Festival and the other half helping to fund future tours of Restless productions.

A huge thank you to everyone who donated to Restless Goes Global, especially to James Darling AM and Lesley Forwood, the Adelaide Theatre & More Social Club and Rob and Jan Tanner.

James and Diana Ramsay Foundation
The James and Diana Ramsay Foundation very generously supported the company in 2018. The Foundation provided much needed support for the staffing levels at the company which increased the capacity of the company to develop and produce its work. They also supported Michelle Ryan’s travel which greatly assisted her capacity to undertake overseas projects for the company. We sincerely thank the Foundation for this highly valued support.

Glenside Lions Scholarship
When members of the Lions Club of Glenside came to Restless in connection with their very generous donation of movable rostra for our Studio, they became aware that some of the Restless dancers are people whose life circumstances mean that they can face financial difficulties.

The response of these Lions Club members was to propose a scholarship program to assist Restless Dance Theatre participants with some of their expenses. People could apply for assistance with expenses like: workshop fees, travel and workshop clothing.

In 2018 Lions Club Scholarships were awarded to: Darcy Carpenter, Kathryn Evans, Rachel High, Kym Mackenzie, Michael Noble and Anastasia Retallack.

Restless joins with them in thanking the Lions for their thoughtful generosity.
